Principles	Restorative Justice, Empathy and Loving Engagement	Diversity and Globalism	Trans-Affirming, Queer Affirming and Collective Value	Intergenerational, Black families and Black villages	Black Women And Unapologetically Black
Script	Restorative Justice: We all know that if you knock down someone's block building, you have to help them rebuild it, you can't just say, "Sorry", and walk away. We also know that it's important for the kids to be able to	Diversity: Different people do different things and have different feelings. It's so important that we have lots of different kinds of people in our community and that everyone feels safe. Globalism:	Transgender affirming: Everybody has the right to choose their own gender by listening to their own heart and mind. Everyone gets to choose if they are a boy or girl or both or neither or something else,	Intergenerational: It's important that we have spaces where people of different ages Black Families: There are lots of different kinds of families; what makes a family is that it's people who take care of each	Black Women: There are some people who think that women are less important than men. We know that all people are important and have the right to be safe and talk about their own feelings. Unapologetically

Sometimes it helps to think about how you would feel if the same thing that happened to your friend happened to you. Another way to say that is empathy. Loving engagement: It's so important to make sure that we are always trying to be fair and peaceful, and to engage with other	Globalism means that we are thinking about all the different people are over the world, and thinking about the ways to keep things fair everywhere.	and no one else gets to choose for them. Queer affirming: Everybody has the right to choose who they love and the kind of family they want by listening to their own heart and mind. Collective value: Everybody is important, and has the right to be safe and happy, no matter what they believe, where they are from, or who they love. Another way to say that is collective value.	other. It's important to make sure that all families feel welcome. Black Villages: There are lots of different kinds of families; what makes a family is that it's people who take care of each other: those people might be related, or maybe they choose to be family together and to take care of each other. Sometimes, when it's lots of families together, it can be called a village.	Black: There are different kinds of people and one way that we're different is the color of our skin. It's important to make sure that all people are treated fairly, and that's why we, and lots of other people all over the country and the world are part of the Black Lives Matter movement.
